

Spiders and Tigers Meet Here This Afternoon--Generals Battle Swarthmore

RICHMOND COLLEGE TO BATTLE TIGERS TODAY

Apparently Teams Are Evenly Matched and One of the Best Games of Season Is Anticipated--Game Begins Promptly at 3 o'clock.

Confident of winning the game this afternoon from Richmond College and thereby practically clinching the silver trophy, the Hampden-Sidney football team arrived in Richmond late yesterday afternoon. Previous to leaving Farmville the Presbyterians engaged in a light signal drill and all of the men are reported to be in good condition. The game will be staged this afternoon at 3 o'clock in Broad Street Park, and is expected to be one of the most hotly contested affairs of the season.

The feeling existing between the two outfits is by no means the best and both teams are expected to go into the game with blood in their eyes. Both aggregations feel that they will win by a narrow margin, but neither of them are overconfident. This false confidence caused Richmond College to suffer a defeat last Saturday at the hands of the Randolph-Macon Yellow Jackets.

Spiders Won First.
The two teams have met once before this season, the contest resulting in a 29 to 9 victory for the Spiders. Since this time, however, the eleven has been considerably strengthened and the Presbyterians feel that they have an equal chance with the local collegians.

Thurman, the fast little quarterback back on the Hampden-Sidney team, is one of the sensations of the league this season, and he is expected to give a good account of himself in the game today. Driver, the former Randolph-Macon star, but who is now performing for the Tigers, is also expected to contribute some long gains. Another man whom the Spiders will have to keep an eye on Buzz, whose trusty toe was the cause of Randolph-Macon's downfall here a couple of weeks ago. He booted the oval over the uprights twice during the game, which were the only points scored during the contest.

The teams are believed to be evenly matched and the game is expected to be one of the best staged here this season.

CAPTAIN BALLIN OF PRINCETON IS AGAIN CANDIDATE FOR ALL AMERICANS

CAPTAIN BALLIN

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 6.—Captain Ballin, of Princeton, is regarded as a likely candidate for all American honors this year. He has been playing a great game as tackle, and if he continues his good work in the big games yet to be played his selection for the All-American team seems assured.

Carolina Plays Virginia Cadets This Afternoon

Charlotte, N. C., November 6.—Carolina Position. V. M. I. Tandy ..... C. .... Beasley

Taylor ..... R. H. .... Bain
(Captain) (Captain)
Parker ..... F. B. .... Oakes
Fuller ..... L. H. .... Marshall

That's the way the two teams will probably line-up Saturday on Wearn field at 3 o'clock when Carolina and V. M. I. hook up to stage Charlotte's 1914 football classic. And it's going to be some scrap.
Reports emanating from both camps this morning state that both teams are down to business for real. Reports of Tandy's soreness have inspired the cadets on while it has made the Carolina squad get down to action with a more determined spirit. Of course, Carolina realizes that her men are sore and they're working hard to unkink these kinks—for they realize now that they're going to have a great struggle before they can wrest the laurels of victory from the cadets across the line.

Generals Play Swarthmore In The Hill City

Lynchburg, Va., Nov. 6.—Quite a bit of interest is being taken by the football fans of this city in the Washington and Lee-Swarthmore football game which will take place at the fair grounds Saturday and from present prospects a large crowd will be on hand to witness the contest.

The Swarthmore eleven arrived here tonight and enjoyed a good night's rest before the game, while the Generals will reach the city some time Saturday morning. Both teams are expected to put up a strong fight, although indications are that Washington and Lee has the edge on the Pennsylvanians.
To date the Generals have not tasted defeat, while Swarthmore has lost three of the five games played, the other two being won by close scores. True Swarthmore has played some of the strongest teams in the East, but Washington and Lee has also been matched against several most formidable elevens, notably V. P. I. and Georgetown, and although their victories were not by large scores, they were well earned.

Swarthmore will slightly outweigh Washington and Lee in the line, but in the backfield both teams are about equal, and the Generals appear to be slightly faster than the Pennsylvania team.

William and Mary to Play Jackets in Ashland Today

Williamsburg, Va., Nov. 6.—The William and Mary team, which journeyed to Ashland tomorrow to meet the Jackets in the fourth game of the championship series, will be severely handicapped by injuries to stars and regulars. Captain Bertschey is the only first string back who will get into game, and his is unfortunately not in the best condition. Wyatt, Gaines and Wright, who completed the backfield against Hampden-Sidney and were crippled before they entered that game, are all three out of the game as a result of injuries sustained in that conflict. Also, Gale, Addison and Carr, three men whose work has been of the first order all the season, are too hopelessly battered to permit their getting into the game. It seems probable that some of the third team backs will be taken on the trip to fill the shoes of any who may be injured.

The line, with the exception of the ends, will be the same powerful aggregation that R. M. found so difficult to gain against. Adding and Rothwell will probably replace the regular ends, Wright and Addison, who are on the injured list.

Even with such a crippled team, the locals expect to invade Ashland full of fight and give the Jackets a merry battle from start to finish. West, Pace and Stryker, who will work in the backfield, have been showing up splendidly lately and are counted on to mix offensive and defensive work to the satisfaction of all.

Recent games have demonstrated that the "dope" is upset at every game so the student body here is hoping and expecting to see their crippled team return victorious over Randolph-Macon tomorrow.

CORNELL PLAYS LAST GAME ON OLD FIELD

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 6.—The Cornell football team tomorrow will bid goodbye to Percy field, for the game with Franklin and Marshall scheduled for tomorrow will be the last home game of the season. Football will also bid good-bye to old Percy field, for tomorrow will be the last football game to be played on the gridiron that has been the scene of many stirring battles for the last twenty years. The Schockopf field on the hill is ready for use and the stadium will be finished by next fall, so that football games will be played there in the future.

The eleven did not practice out of doors today, but met the coaches for a short talk in problems to be faced tomorrow. The team is in fine condition generally, but neither Bailey nor O'Hearn are up to standard and neither is likely to play.

A. & M. Expects Victory Over Hilltop Team

West Raleigh, Nov. 6.—Georgetown, an old foe of the A. & M., will again face the red and white boys at Washington tomorrow. This game is one of the two biggest games of the season, the other being with Washington and Lee at Norfolk two weeks hence. A. & M. won from Georgetown last year 7 to 0, with quite as good a squad as last year, the Techs are sure of winning the game Saturday. A little fear was felt in the earlier part of the season that the absence of some of last year's squad would hinder as good work, but the Navy game at Washington last Saturday has caused a change of sentiment and the Techs are sure that Georgetown will be beaten.

The line-up will be as in the Navy game, either Sharpe or Townsend playing right half. Coach Hegarty thinks that there is little difference in the playing abilities of these two men. The line is improving every day. "Private" Floyd, Coach Hegarty and Trainer Mike Martin are putting the men to hard work and taking special pains to have their physical condition in the best form.

Techs Will Meet Marshall Team At Blacksburg

Blacksburg, Va., Nov. 6.—The V. P. I. team will play the strong Marshall College eleven from Huntington, W. Va., here tomorrow. Although, with two exceptions, the Techs are all in fine shape, a hard game is expected for the Marshall College team has been playing a strong game this year and has managed to pile up some big scores. Last year the Techs beat them 14-0, but the game was a hard one and the West Virginians fought gamely at all times. Their offensive game was particularly interesting, for they disclosed a number of open formations which the Techs found it hard to protect themselves against. It is rumored that they have a much stronger team this year and, if such is the case, the coming contest will be a lively one.

On November 14 the Techs are scheduled to meet North Carolina A. & M. in Roanoke. This is one of the hardest games to win, particularly anxious to win and every precaution is being taken to keep any of the men from being injured. Captain Peake is the only player who is really missed by the Techs now and it is most likely that he will be able to play in the A. & M. game. And with him back at quarter, the prospects are very bright.

ONLY ONE REGULAR IN YALE BACKFIELD

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 6.—The Yale football team ran through a fast signal drill this afternoon in the final practice before the Brown game tomorrow. The same line-up was used that will start the game.

The showing of Brown so far this year has not evidenced a strong team, but Yale has great reason for the extent to which the Providence team has developed the forward pass, and will be prepared with a defense for the opening game. As only one regular backfield man will be in the game tomorrow the scoring ability of the Blue eleven may be hindered and with this end in view Guernsey and Easton spent an hour this afternoon practicing dropkicks from the twenty-five yard line, with the scrubs breaking through.

HARVARD FAVORITES OVER TIGER ELEVEN

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 6.—The Harvard football players had an absolute rest this afternoon. There was no regular practice whatever. It was figured that the layoff would do the men infinitely more good than any possible effort out on the football field.

Harvard by no means is going into the game feeling that the two to one odds that are being demanded in New York City are justified. Against Yale and Princeton the Crimson realize that it is not only facing football but it is facing real spirit besides. The temperament of the Princeton team is known only too well by Harvard's opponents, and it is realized here that Princeton is bringing down a team that has been unusually well coached and one that is in every way capable of playing a game as strong as that shown last year and against which Harvard was able to win only because of Charles Brickley timely field goal.

FULLBACK COLEMAN IS IMPROVING FAST

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 6.—The condition of J. B. Coleman, fullback of Central University football eleven, who was seriously injured in a tackle during the game between Vanderbilt and the Kentucky college two weeks ago today, is very much improved and his father, J. A. Coleman, a well-known citizen of Somerset, Ky., returned to his home last night after having been at his son's bedside since the accident.

CONSERVATORY HAS OPENING RECITAL

A faculty recital, marking the season's opening of the Virginia Conservatory of Music, was given in the Jefferson Hotel auditorium last evening beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

The auditorium was well filled with friends of the conservatory and lovers of music when the exercises began with Robert Colston Young at the piano. Jay Donohue was the violinist and Sedgwick McGregor the tenor.

The program was an ambitious one, but was carried out smoothly and to the appreciative applause of the audience. It was as follows:

Sonata in F for violin and piano. Grieg
Three sea songs, "The Call," "Ship O' Mine," "The Sea Rover." Haydn Wood
Regata Venetiana ..... Liszt
Frühlingsglaube ..... Schubert-Liszt
Prelude E minor ..... MacDowell
Memories ..... F. J. Breckinridge
"The Fiddler of Dooney" ..... Homer
"Thou'rt Like a Flower" ..... Liszt

COMMITTEE AGREES ON 14TH ST. PLAN

Despite strenuous opposition on the part of Alderman Powers, the Street Committee of City Council yesterday adopted a resolution presented by Alderman Puller recommending Fourteenth Street as the logical and proper street to be widened and improved as an approach to Mayo's Bridge, and as an adjunct in the proposition of relieving the congested condition of Cary Street and Fourteenth Street itself.

The committee had held many meetings for the purpose of hearing citizens and other interested persons. Advocates of Fifteenth Street, as well as those who favored Fourteenth Street as the outlet for the surplus traffic, and there were those who favored both streets, spoke.

Propositions had been made the committee by E. S. Rose and associates, represented by Senator Conaway R. Sands, and by Captain Leroy Brown, representing a number of property owners on Fifteenth Street and Dock Street.

The sense of the committee was to first improve Fourteenth Street, and then, if it were deemed necessary, to widen Fifteenth Street.
Messrs. Jones, Butler, English, Puller and Gunst voted for the Fourteenth Street plan, on a motion offered by Alderman Powers that both streets be improved, while Messrs. Powers, Pollock, Sullivan and Nelson voted for the Powers resolution.

This had been offered as a substitute to a resolution presented by Mr. Puller, and upon the vote for the original motion the committee voted unanimously for the Fourteenth Street scheme.
The resolution requires the city engineer to look into the matter and provide plans covering the proposition presented by Mr. Rose. This is to be handed the committee at its next meeting, at which time the committee will forward a recommendation to Council.

Many important gridiron battles will be staged this afternoon in Virginia and adjacent States. Probably the one that has excited the most interest in Richmond is the game at Lynchburg between Washington and Lee and Swarthmore.

Owing to the fact that Captain Donahoe, of the Generals, is crippled, it is a toss-up as to the winner of this contest. Were all of the Generals in good condition the game would probably result in a victory for the Virginians by at least two touchdowns. Carolina is the favorite over V. M. I. at Charlotte today, while A. & M. is expected to triumph over Georgetown in Washington.

Another important battle is the one between Tennessee and Vanderbilt. Although, it is a recognized fact that Tennessee has one of the greatest scoring machines in the South, Vanderbilt may spring a big surprise by holding them in check.

Virginia Plays Small Team.
The University of Virginia eleven will battle the St. John's team of Annapolis, and the orange and blue boys are expected to come out at the large end by a safe margin. V. P. I. plays Marshall College at Blacksburg, while Roanoke College will play Gallaudet in the Magic City.

In Richmond the local football fans will be given an opportunity to see Richmond College battle Hampden-Sidney in the fourth game of the championship series.

The Spiders are slight favorites, while it is a toss-up as to the winner of the game at Ashland between Randolph-Macon and William and Mary.

Following is a list of games of interest to football enthusiasts at Richmond: Richmond College-Hampden-Sidney, at Richmond.

Randolph-Macon-William and Mary, at Ashland.

Washington and Lee-Swarthmore, at Lynchburg.

A. & M.-Georgetown, at Washington.

V. M. I.-Carolina, at Charlotte.

Tennessee-Vanderbilt, at Nashville.

St. Johns-Virginia, at Charlottesville.

V. P. I.-Marshall College, at Blacksburg.

Gallaudet-Roanoke College, at Roanoke.

MAJOR COURTNEY IS LAID TO REST

With prominent Masons acting as pallbearers, Major Alfred R. Courtney, Confederate soldier, Mason, lawyer and prominent citizen, was laid to rest yesterday afternoon in Hollywood Cemetery.

Major Courtney died Wednesday night at 11:15 at the Virginia Hospital, following an attack of paralysis the night before. He is survived by his wife, by his nephews, A. R. W. and Malcolm Patterson, of Richmond, and a number of other relatives.
The funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from Grove-Street Baptist Church and was attended by surviving relatives and a host of friends he had made during his residence of fifty years in Richmond.
